

Shekhar Bajaj, Chairman and Managing Director, Bajaj Electricals Limited

HEAD START

GREAT LEADERS...

...Lead by example. They are great motivators and great consensus builders. Leaders are born; however, one cannot rest on laurels but work continuously and passionately to make an effective leader. The leader needs to give vision, direction and then delegate with full trust.

PASSION FOR WORK

When you enjoy your work it doesn't remain work anymore but becomes a pleasure. And when there is pleasure you become passionate about it.

DELEGATING WORK

This is the most important aspect in any organisation. Only when one delegates and empowers the subordinates, one can have continuous motivation and upward career progression. This way, the work also gets shared while stress and pressure gets reduced.

LEADERSHIP BUILDING

Leadership is not restricted to top level management but to all levels down to the frontline salesman. Leadership acumen is to be developed from the beginning. Delegation and empowerment help people to perform efficiently and effectively in the role that is given to them.

- Priya C Nair